

Diamonds
Diamonds
Diamonds

THIS SPECIAL SALE OF FINE WHITE CRYSTALS HAS NEVER BEEN APPROACHED IN THE HISTORY OF THE TRADE. THOSE EXTRA WHITE AND VERY BRILLIANT STONES ARE SOLD LOWER THAN THE REGULAR PRICES ON ORDINARY COMMERCIAL STONES. CALL AND LOOK FOR THEM. THEY WILL SURPRISE YOU THE MOST.

E. SCHIMPF
317 Lackawanna Ave.

NORTHEASTERN PENNSYLVANIA IN SYLVAN SHADES.

Rally of the Luzerne Republican League at Hanover Park a Decided Novelty and an Equally Gratifying Success.

Wilkes-Barre, July 22.—The Republican League of Luzerne county inaugurated a novelty in political work in the form of a Republican picnic. The novelty was launched at Hanover park, a spacious and attractive sylvan retreat four miles south of the city. Here lunch and refreshment booths, merry-go-rounds, dancing pavilions and various other mechanisms of enjoyment offered the means to the use of the 3000 attendants, while in the commodious amphitheatre eloquence was poured out for the benefit of those whose tastes inclined to an intellectual direction.

The speaker began at 4 o'clock with a spirited and well addressed by H. A. Fuller, the chairman of the meeting. Mr. Fuller elicited great applause by his brilliant sallies at the expense of the Democracy, national and local, and ended by introducing George S. Ferris, of Pittston, who delivered the chief oration of the day. The tenor of his remarks called for continuous interest in politics and urged upon Republicans the necessity of keeping their powder dry. Mr. Ferris was followed by Fred W. Flett, who was introduced by Mr. Fuller as the one good thing which had been known to come out of Scranton. Mr. Flett commended the work of the league and eulogized the heroism of the warfare of wholesome government which is fought by the veterans whose weapons are ballots instead of rifles. Following him Congressman J. D. Hicks, of Altoona, spoke briefly and elicited cheers by his statement that Wilkes-Barre would get her public building.

The oratory and the jollity continued until late in the evening. Among the Scrantonians present during the afternoon were County Chairman John H. Thomas, Fred W. Flett, M. W. Lowry, Major T. F. Penman, Prothonotary Clarence E. Pryor, E. B. Robathan, M. H. Dale and L. S. Richard.

WINTERSTEEN'S SECOND TRIAL.

The Famous Dynamite Case to Have Another Airing in Court.

Bloomsburg, July 22.—Lloyd S. Wintersteen, who is charged with having been Clifton C. Korr's accomplice in the attempt to blow up the residence of Levi Walker, here, on September 1, and in whose recent trial the jury disagreed, is to be tried again. For this purpose a special session of court to follow the criminal session in September is to be called, at the request of District Attorney John N. Harman.

The impending trial will be surrounded by many difficulties. For the first trial, which began during the latter part of May and continued through the second week of June, it was found a hard matter to secure a Judge Iker, who is Wintersteen's friend of many years standing, did not feel himself competent under the circumstances to sit, so the services of Judge Emmentrot were secured. The coming trial will occur at a time when most of the Judges throughout the state have business at home, so that it will be almost impossible for a member in the judiciary from another county to take the bench. It is thought, however, that Judge Emmentrot will consent to come if matters can be arranged for him in Berks county.

The same attorneys who assisted in the prosecution of the original case, will look after Columbia county's interests this time. They are George S. Graham, of Philadelphia; James Scarlett, of Danville; ex-Senator Grant Herring and District Attorney Harman, of Bloomsburg; and William H. Rawns, of Catawissa. Mr. Wintersteen's lawyers are A. L. Shields, of Philadelphia; Messrs. Jacob and Keiser, of Reading; and J. Fred Iker, of this place. The latter is a son of Judge Iker.

A REGIMENT OF CADETS.

State Companies Are in a Movement to Effect Organization.

Pottsville, July 22.—A movement is on foot to organize a five-company battalion of cadets, which will be named after General Gobin. Cadets of Pottsville, St. Clair, Waynesburg, Mahanoy City and Lebanon have already promised to join.

There is also on foot a project to form a state regiment of nine companies. Four companies in Pottsville are interested in it. The Gobin Battalion will camp at Carsonia Park, near Reading, Aug. 6-15.

FATAL FALL FROM TREE.

Mahanoy City, July 22.—Irwin Becker, a 13-year-old orphan boy, fell from a tree on East Center street, striking head foremost on the pavement below and sustaining fatal internal injuries. His parents recently were killed accidentally.

CRUSHED BY CAR WHEELS.

Mahanoy City, July 22.—John Buchinski attempted to board a draft of loaded mine cars at Lawrence colliery, Mahanoy Plane, and in doing so fell beneath the wheels. He will die.

WYOMING.

Isaac Edwards, of the firm of Patterson & Edwards, of the West Side, is having a house built on Eighth street. The ground has been broken, cellar dug and work on the foundation has been begun. Mr. Edwards hopes to be able to occupy it by September.

It is quite a lively season at the Wyoming camp ground this summer, the most prosperous thus far for several years. Already there are about twenty families occupying cottages and the hotel has occasional guests. A hack is making two daily trips between Wyoming and the camp ground. It makes connection with morning and afternoon trains and street cars. The regular camp meetings will begin on the 11th of August. Presiding Elder Eckman, of Scranton, is spending the summer there with his family.

Mr. Edward B. Wilson, of Scranton, has been visiting relatives near Coverton this week.

Miss Flo Allen, of Forest City, is spending a short time here as the guest of Miss Laura Davies.

GEORGE WASHINGTON VIEWED AS A MAN

An Estimate of Him Which is Not Colored for Effect.

HE WAS BY NO MEANS A DEMIGOD

The Mistake Which His Eulogists Have Made is Not Frankly Accepting the Facts as History Presents Them—None the Less Admirable for Being Human.

The recent Washington Monument dedication in Philadelphia, inspired "Penn" of the Evening Bulletin to write concerning the life and character of the great patriot. He says:

There seems to be much less of a tendency than there once was to view him as a demigod, a passionless, severe, exalted and unblemished, his character as if long existed in the conceptions of his country as such as to place it beyond the range of sympathy or affection. There are some persons who believe that it is well to keep up the appearance of this type of serene perfection for its value as a model and incentive. I am not certain that they are right. The more Washington has been seen, as the more Lincoln has been, in his little failings, and especially the more we understand how he was viewed and treated by his contemporaries, the more is the lesson of his life likely to be of practical helplessness than if we idealize him into a figure of Parian marble in the star light.

We can judge more correctly and with more of the justice of charity our own public men when we find that a man like Washington went through the same kind of experiences which cause us to denounce or criticize them and to cry out that the standard of public virtue is on the decline. Whatever intrigue, chicanery and blackguardism may now be doing to despoil of their good names, the best class of men in public affairs, was suffered in some degree by Washington, both as a soldier and a citizen.

He was not a demigod, but a man, heaped upon him included arrogance, arbitrary conduct, marital infidelity, cruelty to slaves, weakness and incompetency as a general, political ingratitude, subservience to the English, in his capacity as a minister, and subservience to party managers. The only usual form of public scandal from which he was entirely free from in the mouths of the enemies was personal corruption. The bitterest of them seem never to have thought seriously of fastening their charges upon him—not even General Charles Lee or Tom Paine in their fiercest abuse.

HAD HIS FAILINGS.

Washington was fond of cards, of horses, of fox hunting, of cock fighting and of dancing. He enjoyed dancing when he was president, in Philadelphia, and was past sixty years of age. In his early life he wrote verses; he was a lover, but not a saint, and from his youth to his old age he was extremely careful to dress like a well-bred man, scrupulous in the care of his person and at one time having something of the reputation of a dandy. He drank freely of wine, but there is no record that he was ever intoxicated. He was more than ordinarily fond of the society of women, and some of his correspondence with them is marked by high-flown gallantry. His effusion of grief when Betsy Fauntleroy would not have him in the house, and his accusation of intimacy with Mrs. Fairfax, and when he first took command of the Continental army, the Tories published a pamphlet concerning one Mary Gibbons, who lived somewhere near New York, and who was to deliver him into the hands of the British.

USE OF LIQUOR.

When Washington was a young man he was a candidate for Burgess or member of the Virginia legislature, running on an anti-tavern platform, and was defeated by what we would now call the "liquor interest." The next year he made the race again. This time he enlisted the good will of the liquor dealers, and he was elected for liquor for the voters and gave instructions that there should be no stint in the quantity of whisky, brandy and ale that the voters might desire. There exists somewhere a tabulated list of his election expenses, or rum bills, on that occasion. The list is not preserved for the most part with disfavor. At that time the standard of politeness and liberality in a public man in the Old Dominion was gauged largely by his willingness to be generous and hospitable with his liquor. The fine and true pattern of a Virginia gentleman then was the one who, if a man entered his house, set out his whisky on the table and then took a long look out of the window.

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, July 22.—There was not a weak spot in the whole list today, save a net loss of over a point in Sugar contracts. The market was strong and large and broad. Bonds as well as stocks were strong and the dealing extended to many hitherto moribund securities. Deceptive reports of grain and cotton quotations from wheat, as well as London arbitrage sales were ignored and the market advanced on pool support. The highest exports of grain being secured, and about noon, but an even larger number of securities scored about their best at the close. The total sales of stocks today were 4750 shares.

USE OF LIQUOR.

Furnished by WILLIAM LINN, ALLEN & CO., stock brokers, Meats building, rooms 706-707.

Table with columns: Stock Name, Price, Change. Includes Am. Tobacco Co., Am. Sugar Refining Co., A. T. & S. F., Can. Southern, Chic. & Ohio, Chic. & N. W., Chic. B. & Q., C. C. & St. L., Chic. Gas, Chic. R. I. & P., Delaware & Hud., D. L. & W., Erie, Gen. Electric, Lake Shore, Louis. & Nash, Mich. & St. P., Manhattan Ede., Mo. Pacific, Nat. Lead, N. Y. Central, N. Y. L. E. & W., N. Y. S. & W., Penn. & Del., Nor. Pacific, Pac. & West, Omaha, Pacific Mail, Phil. Read., Southern R. R., Southern R. R., Penn. & Del., Texas Pacific, Union Pacific, Wash. & Annapolis, Wabash, Wash. Union, W. L., W. Va. & P., U. S. Leather, U. S. Rubber.

Scranton Board of Trade Exchange Quotations—All Quotations Based on Par of 100.

Table with columns: Stock Name, Price, Bid, Asked. Includes Scranton & Pittston Trac. Co., National Boring & Drilling Co.

Head's Pills

Stimulate the stomach, rouse the liver, cure biliousness, headache, indigestion, sour stomach, constipation, etc. Price 75 cents. Sold by all druggists. The only Pills to take with Head's Catarrhal.

THE MISTAKE WHICH HIS EULOGISTS HAVE MADE IS NOT FRANKLY ACCEPTING THE FACTS AS HISTORY PRESENTS THEM—NONE THE LESS ADMIRABLE FOR BEING HUMAN.

NEITHER CLEVELAND NOR GRANT IN THEIR TWO TERMS IN THE WHITE HOUSE HAS BEEN THE OBJECT OF EPITHETS MORE VINDICTIVE AND HEATED THAN THOSE WHICH WASHINGTON IN HIS SECOND TERM FROM THE OPPOSITION PRESS.

GREATLY ABUSED.

Neither Cleveland nor Grant in their two terms in the White House has been the object of epithets more vindictive and heated than those which Washington in his second term from the opposition press. It is sometimes said that when he "swore like an angel" at Lee in the field Monmouth was the only time he was known to be profane. There was doubtless more than one occasion in the market street hours when office-seekers were pestering him, and when the newspaper editors and the pamphleteers were daily inventing a "charge" and when the French agitators were stirring up sedition and riot on the streets that he could not restrain his naturally strong temper. We know, at least, how he turned on "that rascal Freneau" for his editorials, and how, after reading Edmund Randolph's pamphlet—which Randolph attacked and apologized for—the exclamation that Randolph "by the eternal God is the dammedest liar on the face of the earth" and nearly upset the table by his side when his clenched fist came down upon it. It is only to be wondered that he did not repeat these performances often. Tom Paine, whom he had befriended, published a pamphlet in which he accused him of being "treacherous in private friendship" and "a hypocrite in private life" of being either "an apostate or an impostor" and "the patron of fraud" and all because Tom Paine couldn't get an office. Callender squirmed his mephitic juices over him as "double traitor," and even Jefferson was thought to be behind this intolerably filthy scoundrel. Benjamin Franklin cache day after next in the Aurora engaged in a systematic journalistic crusade against Washington, belittling, ridiculing and berating him as a farcical patriot and an ostentatious old humbug in disguise, demanding personal income and liability of the man around him, and with all his vehemence outdid Bache in this species of attacks, and Freneau had prosecuted his talents to the same miserable defamation. Any man who read the Philadelphia newspapers from 1793 to 1795, and who has not been excused if he had come to the conclusion that the first president of the United States was a pompous, but weak-minded tool of Hamilton's, or a treacherous tyrant bent on breaking up the constitution, and the laws and honorable standing up for his country against English diplomacy.

HIS GREATNESS.

The test of Washington's character is that you may place the microscope to it and examine his life from one end to the other without lowering him. You may discover that he was pock marked on the face and wore false teeth; that he was constrained to tell his mother that he could not come to the table unless dressed for it; that he came to the conclusion that he could not live peacefully in a house with two women under the same roof; that he was the richest public man of his day, being nearly a millionaire; or, as we would now call him, a "big crat," when he died; that he sometimes sat silent and frigid at table, to the awe of every one in the household; that he would take his daily constitutional down Market street to the wharf without uttering a word or recognizing any one; that when he was called upon to speak he would sometimes tremble so that he would excite pity; that it was not until he became a middle-aged man that he could spell and write with any ease and correctness—these and other things like them you will find, and they do not spoil his excellence. You may ransack his whole life and you will be unable to discover a trace of serious duplicity or a downright falsehood, the Rev. Mason L. Weems being unquestionably right in his deductions from the famous cherry tree legend; and with that sincerity went justice, magnanimity and a public probity that was absolutely pure and inflexible.

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, July 22.—There was not a weak spot in the whole list today, save a net loss of over a point in Sugar contracts. The market was strong and large and broad. Bonds as well as stocks were strong and the dealing extended to many hitherto moribund securities. Deceptive reports of grain and cotton quotations from wheat, as well as London arbitrage sales were ignored and the market advanced on pool support. The highest exports of grain being secured, and about noon, but an even larger number of securities scored about their best at the close. The total sales of stocks today were 4750 shares.

USE OF LIQUOR.

Furnished by WILLIAM LINN, ALLEN & CO., stock brokers, Meats building, rooms 706-707.

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, July 22.—There was not a weak spot in the whole list today, save a net loss of over a point in Sugar contracts. The market was strong and large and broad. Bonds as well as stocks were strong and the dealing extended to many hitherto moribund securities. Deceptive reports of grain and cotton quotations from wheat, as well as London arbitrage sales were ignored and the market advanced on pool support. The highest exports of grain being secured, and about noon, but an even larger number of securities scored about their best at the close. The total sales of stocks today were 4750 shares.

USE OF LIQUOR.

Furnished by WILLIAM LINN, ALLEN & CO., stock brokers, Meats building, rooms 706-707.

Table with columns: Stock Name, Price, Change. Includes Am. Tobacco Co., Am. Sugar Refining Co., A. T. & S. F., Can. Southern, Chic. & Ohio, Chic. & N. W., Chic. B. & Q., C. C. & St. L., Chic. Gas, Chic. R. I. & P., Delaware & Hud., D. L. & W., Erie, Gen. Electric, Lake Shore, Louis. & Nash, Mich. & St. P., Manhattan Ede., Mo. Pacific, Nat. Lead, N. Y. Central, N. Y. L. E. & W., N. Y. S. & W., Penn. & Del., Nor. Pacific, Pac. & West, Omaha, Pacific Mail, Phil. Read., Southern R. R., Southern R. R., Penn. & Del., Texas Pacific, Union Pacific, Wash. & Annapolis, Wabash, Wash. Union, W. L., W. Va. & P., U. S. Leather, U. S. Rubber.

Scranton Board of Trade Exchange Quotations—All Quotations Based on Par of 100.

Table with columns: Stock Name, Price, Bid, Asked. Includes Scranton & Pittston Trac. Co., National Boring & Drilling Co.

Head's Pills

Stimulate the stomach, rouse the liver, cure biliousness, headache, indigestion, sour stomach, constipation, etc. Price 75 cents. Sold by all druggists. The only Pills to take with Head's Catarrhal.

Violent and with denunciation hot upon him for allowing Jay to sell out his country to the English and for conducting the administration on pro-English methods.

GREATLY ABUSED.

NEITHER CLEVELAND NOR GRANT IN THEIR TWO TERMS IN THE WHITE HOUSE HAS BEEN THE OBJECT OF EPITHETS MORE VINDICTIVE AND HEATED THAN THOSE WHICH WASHINGTON IN HIS SECOND TERM FROM THE OPPOSITION PRESS.

Neither Cleveland nor Grant in their two terms in the White House has been the object of epithets more vindictive and heated than those which Washington in his second term from the opposition press. It is sometimes said that when he "swore like an angel" at Lee in the field Monmouth was the only time he was known to be profane. There was doubtless more than one occasion in the market street hours when office-seekers were pestering him, and when the newspaper editors and the pamphleteers were daily inventing a "charge" and when the French agitators were stirring up sedition and riot on the streets that he could not restrain his naturally strong temper. We know, at least, how he turned on "that rascal Freneau" for his editorials, and how, after reading Edmund Randolph's pamphlet—which Randolph attacked and apologized for—the exclamation that Randolph "by the eternal God is the dammedest liar on the face of the earth" and nearly upset the table by his side when his clenched fist came down upon it. It is only to be wondered that he did not repeat these performances often. Tom Paine, whom he had befriended, published a pamphlet in which he accused him of being "treacherous in private friendship" and "a hypocrite in private life" of being either "an apostate or an impostor" and "the patron of fraud" and all because Tom Paine couldn't get an office. Callender squirmed his mephitic juices over him as "double traitor," and even Jefferson was thought to be behind this intolerably filthy scoundrel. Benjamin Franklin cache day after next in the Aurora engaged in a systematic journalistic crusade against Washington, belittling, ridiculing and berating him as a farcical patriot and an ostentatious old humbug in disguise, demanding personal income and liability of the man around him, and with all his vehemence outdid Bache in this species of attacks, and Freneau had prosecuted his talents to the same miserable defamation. Any man who read the Philadelphia newspapers from 1793 to 1795, and who has not been excused if he had come to the conclusion that the first president of the United States was a pompous, but weak-minded tool of Hamilton's, or a treacherous tyrant bent on breaking up the constitution, and the laws and honorable standing up for his country against English diplomacy.

HIS GREATNESS.

The test of Washington's character is that you may place the microscope to it and examine his life from one end to the other without lowering him. You may discover that he was pock marked on the face and wore false teeth; that he was constrained to tell his mother that he could not come to the table unless dressed for it; that he came to the conclusion that he could not live peacefully in a house with two women under the same roof; that he was the richest public man of his day, being nearly a millionaire; or, as we would now call him, a "big crat," when he died; that he sometimes sat silent and frigid at table, to the awe of every one in the household; that he would take his daily constitutional down Market street to the wharf without uttering a word or recognizing any one; that when he was called upon to speak he would sometimes tremble so that he would excite pity; that it was not until he became a middle-aged man that he could spell and write with any ease and correctness—these and other things like them you will find, and they do not spoil his excellence. You may ransack his whole life and you will be unable to discover a trace of serious duplicity or a downright falsehood, the Rev. Mason L. Weems being unquestionably right in his deductions from the famous cherry tree legend; and with that sincerity went justice, magnanimity and a public probity that was absolutely pure and inflexible.

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, July 22.—There was not a weak spot in the whole list today, save a net loss of over a point in Sugar contracts. The market was strong and large and broad. Bonds as well as stocks were strong and the dealing extended to many hitherto moribund securities. Deceptive reports of grain and cotton quotations from wheat, as well as London arbitrage sales were ignored and the market advanced on pool support. The highest exports of grain being secured, and about noon, but an even larger number of securities scored about their best at the close. The total sales of stocks today were 4750 shares.

USE OF LIQUOR.

Furnished by WILLIAM LINN, ALLEN & CO., stock brokers, Meats building, rooms 706-707.

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, July 22.—There was not a weak spot in the whole list today, save a net loss of over a point in Sugar contracts. The market was strong and large and broad. Bonds as well as stocks were strong and the dealing extended to many hitherto moribund securities. Deceptive reports of grain and cotton quotations from wheat, as well as London arbitrage sales were ignored and the market advanced on pool support. The highest exports of grain being secured, and about noon, but an even larger number of securities scored about their best at the close. The total sales of stocks today were 4750 shares.

USE OF LIQUOR.

Furnished by WILLIAM LINN, ALLEN & CO., stock brokers, Meats building, rooms 706-707.

Table with columns: Stock Name, Price, Change. Includes Am. Tobacco Co., Am. Sugar Refining Co., A. T. & S. F., Can. Southern, Chic. & Ohio, Chic. & N. W., Chic. B. & Q., C. C. & St. L., Chic. Gas, Chic. R. I. & P., Delaware & Hud., D. L. & W., Erie, Gen. Electric, Lake Shore, Louis. & Nash, Mich. & St. P., Manhattan Ede., Mo. Pacific, Nat. Lead, N. Y. Central, N. Y. L. E. & W., N. Y. S. & W., Penn. & Del., Nor. Pacific, Pac. & West, Omaha, Pacific Mail, Phil. Read., Southern R. R., Southern R. R., Penn. & Del., Texas Pacific, Union Pacific, Wash. & Annapolis, Wabash, Wash. Union, W. L., W. Va. & P., U. S. Leather, U. S. Rubber.

Scranton Board of Trade Exchange Quotations—All Quotations Based on Par of 100.

Table with columns: Stock Name, Price, Bid, Asked. Includes Scranton & Pittston Trac. Co., National Boring & Drilling Co.

Head's Pills

Stimulate the stomach, rouse the liver, cure biliousness, headache, indigestion, sour stomach, constipation, etc. Price 75 cents. Sold by all druggists. The only Pills to take with Head's Catarrhal.

Table with columns: Bank Name, Amount. Includes First National Bank, Elmhurst Boulevard Co., Scranton Savings Bank, Scranton Building Co., Lacks, Iron & Steel Co., Third National Bank, Throop Novelty Mfg Co., Scranton Axle Works, Weston Mill Co., Alexander & Son Replacer Co., Lacks, Trist & Safe Co., Economy, S. M. & P. Co.

Philadelphia Provision Market.

Philadelphia, July 22.—Wheat—July, 79 1/2; August, 79 1/2; September, nominal; October, nominal; Corn—Steady; No. 2 mixed, July, 52 1/2; August, 52 1/2; September, nominal; October, nominal; Oats—Dull and nominal; No. 2 white, July, 34 1/2; August, 34 1/2; September, 34 1/2; October, 34 1/2; Butter—Quiet but steady; fancy western creamery, 15c; do. Pennsylvania prints, 16c; do. western do. 16c. Eggs—Firm; 1/2c higher; fresh, nearby, 12 1/2c; do. dark, 12c; do. fair, 11 1/2c; do. grease, 2 1/2c. Live Poultry—Firm; turkeys, 10c; old roosters, 7c; spring chickens, 11c. Dressed Poultry—Unchanged; fowls, choice, 10c; do. fair to good, 10 1/2c; broilers, western, desirable sizes, 10 1/2c; do. small and scalded, 10 1/2c; nearby, do. as to size and quality, 10 1/2c; track mixed, western, 2 1/2c; 4,000 sacks; wheat, 24,000 bushels; corn, 57,000 bushels; oats, 41,000 bushels.

New York Produce Market.

New York, July 22.—Flour—Steadily held but the trade refused to meet asking prices. Wheat—Spot quiet; No. 1 northern, 84c; No. 2, 83c; No. 3, 82c; No. 4, 81c; No. 5, 80c; No. 6, 79c; No. 7, 78c; No. 8, 77c; No. 9, 76c; No. 10, 75c; No. 11, 74c; No. 12, 73c; No. 13, 72c; No. 14, 71c; No. 15, 70c; No. 16, 69c; No. 17, 68c; No. 18, 67c; No. 19, 66c; No. 20, 65c; No. 21, 64c; No. 22, 63c; No. 23, 62c; No. 24, 61c; No. 25, 60c; No. 26, 59c; No. 27, 58c; No. 28, 57c; No. 29, 56c; No. 30, 55c; No. 31, 54c; No. 32, 53c; No. 33, 52c; No. 34, 51c; No. 35, 50c; No. 36, 49c; No. 37, 48c; No. 38, 47c; No. 39, 46c; No. 40, 45c; No. 41, 44c; No. 42, 43c; No. 43, 42c; No. 44, 41c; No. 45, 40c; No. 46, 39c; No. 47, 38c; No. 48, 37c; No. 49, 36c; No. 50, 35c; No. 51, 34c; No. 52, 33c; No. 53, 32c; No. 54, 31c; No. 55, 30c; No. 56, 29c; No. 57, 28c; No. 58, 27c; No. 59, 26c; No. 60, 25c; No. 61, 24c; No. 62, 23c; No. 63, 22c; No. 64, 21c; No. 65, 20c; No. 66, 19c; No. 67, 18c; No. 68, 17c; No. 69, 16c; No. 70, 15c; No. 71, 14c; No. 72, 13c; No. 73, 12c; No. 74, 11c; No. 75, 10c; No. 76, 9c; No. 77, 8c; No. 78, 7c; No. 79, 6c; No. 80, 5c; No. 81, 4c; No. 82, 3c; No. 83, 2c; No. 84, 1c; No. 85, 0c; No. 86, 0c; No. 87, 0c; No. 88, 0c; No. 89, 0c; No. 90, 0c; No. 91, 0c; No. 92, 0c; No. 93, 0c; No. 94, 0c; No. 95, 0c; No. 96, 0c; No. 97, 0c; No. 98, 0c; No. 99, 0c; No. 100, 0c.

New York Live Stock.

New York, July 22.—Beef—No trade of any account. Calves—Market very dull. Veals, 12c; fat, 12 1/2c; butter milk calves, 12 1/2c; sheep and lambs—Quiet, steady all around; sheep, $3.40; lambs, $1.50 to $1.75. Hogs—Market steady at $4.10 to $4.50.

Oil Market.

Oil City, Pa., July 22.—Credit balances, 7c; certificates, no bid; shipments, 64.25 barrels; runs, 104.75 barrels.

LE BRUN'S FOR EITHER SEX.

This remedy being used directly to the seat of these diseases of the Genito-Urinary Organs, requires no change of diet. Cure guaranteed in 1 to 3 days. Small plain packages, 50c. Sold only by Wm. G. Clark, 326 Penn Ave., Scranton, Pa.

CALL UP 3682.

Moloney Oil and Manufacturing Co.

OILS, VINEGAR AND CIDER OFFICE AND WAREHOUSE, 141 TO 151 MERIDIAN ST. M. W. COLLINS, Manager.

BEAUTIFUL SKIN

Soft, White Hands with Shapely Nails, Luxuriant Hair with Clean, Wholesome Scalp, produced by CURCUMA SOAP, the most effective skin purifying and beautifying soap in the world, as well as purest and sweetest, for toilet, bath, and nursery. The only preventive of inflammation and clogging of the Pores.

Citicura

Soap is sold throughout the world. For Sale and Wholesale by CURCUMA SOAP, Boston, U. S. A. Use Citicura to Purify and Beautify the Skin, Scalp, and Hair, washed free.

BABY HUMORS

Washed and soothed, instantly relieved by CURCUMA SOAP.

SHERIFF'S SALE OF BROWN'S BEE HIVE STOCK

Everything must be sold. See the great bargains just opened on 2d floor, consisting of Ladies' Suits, Waists, Skirts, Wrappers, Millinery, Ladies' and Mens' Furnishings, Hats, Caps, Hosiery, Gloves, Underwear, Etc.

Will Be Sold at About One-Half Price Until the Entire Stock is Sold.

The Most Delightful SPRING TRIPS are those by the handsome large steamships of the

OLD DOMINION LINE

sailing every week day from New York to OLD POINT COMFORT, VIRGINIA BEACH AND RICHMOND, VA.

Round trip tickets, covering a health-giving sea voyage of 700 miles, with meals and stateroom accommodations enroute